2016: A year brimming with potential!

2016 has arrived. In 2015, the ACS Puget Sound Section took advantage of a number of opportunities to improve how programs and events are run. 2016 promises to continue that trend. The next major ACS event is the Career Event on February 17th, 2016. Please register online by February 12th.

The Executive Committee has grown by two people (the Councilor Position 5 and the Alternate Councilor Position 5) to round out to a 16 member committee. This expanded leadership team allows us to tackle a few more projects. Check out the roster on the second to last page in this newsletter or online on the 'About the Section' webpage.

The website changes are now being rolled out. Last month we launched a new calendar. This month, the YCC webpage has been redone and there is a new Online Resources webpage that contains the list of links that used to be on one of the last pages in this newsletter. Future changes will include more info about the Executive Committee and Sub-Committees and a restructuring of info to make things easier to locate (forms, contact info, event info, etc.). Check it out and tell us what you think!

Cheers!

Science Cafés

► These Science Cafés are free and are open to all ages. ◀

Tacoma Science Café

"Fingerprinting the Enemy: Our Body's War on Germs"

Tuesday, 12 January, 2016 - 6:30pm - Swiss Restaurant & Pub

- The Swiss Restaurant & Pub is located at 1904 Jefferson Avenue, Tacoma, WA 98402.

Kate Williams, Ph.D., Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center

We still do not have vaccines against a number of pathogens including HIV, malaria and dengue virus. Come hear how our body routinely protects us against infection with different germs, how this process relates to vaccination and why it has been so hard to make vaccines against some pathogens.

Eastside Science Café

"Fusion, Fission, Energy and Cell Death: The Remarkable Story of Mitochondria, the 'Powerhouse of the Cell'"

Tuesday, 19 January, 2016 - 7:00pm - Wilde Rover

- Wilde Rover is located at 111 Central Way, Kirkland, WA 98033.

Brittany Whitley, University of Washington, Molecular and Cellular Biology

What can both give us energy and kill our cells? Mitochondria! You may have seen these depicted in text books as kidney bean shaped structures inside of our cells, or maybe referred to as the "powerhouse of the cell". Now, forget everything you thought you knew about this organelle. Mitochondria are constantly dividing and fusing together to form a dynamic web-like network that produces energy to power our cells. They can also signal for cells to commit suicide. How does the same thing make energy and cause cell death? Explore how mitochondria connect and break a part and what this means for health and disease.

Science on Tap

Science on Tap is another science café that meets in Seattle, WA. Information regarding the next Science on Tap event can be found on their website: <http://www.scienceontap.org>

AWIS (Association for Women in Science)

"Social Media and Activism in Science"

Wednesday, 20 January, 2016 - 6:00pm – Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center

- The Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center is located at 1100 Fairview Ave. N., Seattle, WA 98109.

Come learn about how scientists can use social media to promote their work and the work of their colleagues. We will talk about how to effectively communicate with both the scientific community and the general public. Additionally, we will discuss how to use social media to advance causes that are important to creating a supportive and inclusive environment in science. Our distinguished panelists are:

Kathy Barker, Ph.D. (Scientist, Author - ScientistsAsCitizens.org - @ScienceActivist)

Jennifer Davison (Program Manager - Urban@UW - @JenEDavison)

Sharona Gordon, Ph.D. (Professor - UW Department of Physiology & Biophysics - @ProfSharon)

AWIS programs are FREE and open to members and non-members, both men and women.
